

Celebrating 100 Years of Community and Cultural Life: 1913 - 2013

Humanity, Wisdom & Meditation

September 21 and 22, 2013

Rudolf Steiner House, 307 Sussex Street, Sydney

Is it possible to live in the 21st Century spiritually?
A dual task awaits humanity: what each individual brings with their own thoughts and questions, forming a foundation on which we can work together - and using free initiative to understand world events and find a place in which to work with our deeds. Can we create a place in which the universal human can exist and evolve? - where nothing separates us, whether it be our nationality, gender, customs, language, or religion, because we are are connected with what is universally human.

This event is presented by the Sydney Branch of the Anthroposophical Society in Australia.

Lectures, workshops, and presentations are free of charge. Donations are welcome to cover costs.

The two evening concerts are by fixed contribution at the door.

Lunch is available for purchase on both days.

Thank you to all our presenters contributors and supporters.
