Shifting Perspectives and ritual transformation in Dramatherapy – Workshop

"A shift needs a ritual, an experience to allow for transformation and healing"

Lana Sussman Davis and I will be facilitating a very exciting workshop on 14th - 16th September this year. It is called Shifting Perspectives and ritual transformation in Dramatherapy. Some time ago we were discussing milestones in our lives, and how the statues and monuments we encounter in parks and town squares can help us make a shift from one lifestage to another. This led to a discussion of ritual and the healing that can come from bringing ritual to our lives.

On Friday 14th, from 7.00 to 9.00 p.m., we will introduce you to the transformation that can happen in shape-shifting and milestone transformation. On Saturday 15th, using a small scene from Shakespeare's Tempest as our guide in the morning, together with dramatherapy techniques, Joanna will help participants bring the gifts of shape-shifting into the here-and-now in the afternoon. On Sunday 16th, Lana will help facilitate an exploration of our own healing and transformative rituals giving our personal, unique milestones and stories a treasured place in our biography.
